

The 2012 Rush Fest has finished its penultimate day here in Virginia Beach. In the early games, the Colorado boys were hitting on all cylinders as they cruised to an 8-0 win over Washington. The Rush Select boys were in yet another close match as they scored the lone goal in the second half to win 3-2 over Iowa who had several chances to equalize hitting both the post and crossbar after beating the Select keeper. After a tough game Sunday, the host Virginia boys struggled to find the form they'd shown the first two games but had enough on the day to get past Georgia 2-1.

In the girls games, Virginia beat Washington and Rush Select took care of business against Alaska Rush.

In the afternoon, all players were split up from their teams and randomly selected to play on small sided 8v8 'street soccer' games. Technique on the ball was key to success in the small sided competition and the players took that to heart working hard on their individual ball skills and 1v1 moves.

The evening 'Fest 22' event sadly was cancelled due to strong lightning in the area. The boys (pictured) were able to play right up until halftime before officials had to send the participants home.

Wednesday morning will mark the end of Rush Fest for 2012 and will culminate with final games and closing remarks.
