

Rush Beach Soccer Team Announce Sponsorship Deal with Quik Hands

The Rush Beach Soccer team is proud to announce that they have secured a sponsorship deal with Quik Hands. Quik Hands will become the teams primary jersey sponsor and their logo will appear on the front of the Rush jersey for their beach team.

Founded by Dieter Thellmann, Quik Hands has created the only weighted goalkeeper glove on the market. The purpose of the gloves is to help increase goalkeepers' reaction time, strength, range of motion, agility and confidence during match play. Currently, Jon Busch of the Chicago Fire wears Quik Hands gloves.

Quik Hands gloves have a weight pouch on the back of each hand, which can hold either a 4 oz. or 5.5 oz. weight packet. The idea is for goalkeepers to train with the weighted gloves during practice and can then remove the weights during match play.

Quik Hands would like to extend a 30% discount off the price of our gloves to any Rush soccer player. Glove styles and sizes can be seen on the Quik Hands website: www.quikhands.com. Please enter the code: RUSH1 to receive your discount when checking out.

Quik Hands

You can find the Rush Beach Soccer Team in the Rush Way membership page.