

Former Oregon Rush Technical Director John O'Sullivan is on a mission. That mission, to change the way that coaches, parents and players approach youth sports; to ensure that we return youth sports to our children, and put the 'play' back in 'play ball.'

John recently had the opportunity to speak at the widely acclaimed TED Talks about the Changing the Game Project. The video below is worth watching for all parents and coaches within the youth sports world.

John will be a guest speaker at the Rush Fest in Denver July 13-18.
